Calling all teachers: we need your input
Teachers, have your say!
Teachers, how can we make education better?
Teachers, we need your input!
Teachers, it's time you were heard!
Teachers should have a voice, time to be heard!

Calling All Teachers: Your Chance to be Heard!

Ever feel like your opinions as a teacher are not heard or just not taken seriously? Well now's your chance to have your say...

I'm Colin from PlayUp Games, and we're looking to develop a range of revolutionary educational products to be released in 2019 with the aim of improving social skills and cultivating traits like empathy, compassion, respect and responsibility in children through experiential learning.

Frontline educational professionals like you are hugely valuable to us in determining what's working and what's not when it comes to teaching, and we're keen to hear from you.

This short 10 question survey is your chance to have your say on what's really needed in the classroom to help better nurture our children, and we'd be grateful if you could complete it, and also share it with your teaching colleagues and co-workers.

Thank you.
